Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Perry (U.S. 6,067,608).

3. A memory management method for storing in memory a message that is constituted by a plurality of parameters of any size; said memory management method comprising steps of: reserving a message data area of a predetermined size in said memory for storing said message (col.6, lines 23-27); providing an actual value area, which is an area for storing values of the parameters (col.6, lines 27-28), in said message data area, and sequentially storing values of said parameters in the actual value area without creating unused areas (col.6, lines 31-57); creating a parameter list in said actual value area which positional information is registered that indicates the locations at which values of the parameters are stored; and referring to said parameter list to access said message data area and read out each value of said parameters that are necessary for each of predetermined processes (col.6, lines 58-67 & col.7, lines 1-25).

Art Unit: 2143

4. A method according to claim 1, wherein said method further comprises steps of:
providing a new message data area in said memory when there is no empty area for storing said parameters in said message data area; and sequentially storing the parameters in the new message data area (col.6, lines 31-57).

5. A method according to claim 1, wherein said method further comprises steps of:
providing a flag area in said message data area for storing flags that indicate the existence of values of said parameters; storing values of said flags corresponding to said parameters in said flag area; and registering, in said parameter list, positional information that indicates the location at which said flags are stored (col.6, lines 58-67 & col.7, lines1-25).

6. A method according to claim 2, wherein said method further comprises steps of: a
providing a flag area in said message data area for storing flags that indicate the existence of values of said parameters; storing values of said flags corresponding to said parameters in said flag area; and registering, in said parameter list, positional information that indicates the location at which said flags are stored (col.6, lines 58-67 & col.7, lines1-25).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant should submit an argument under the heading "Remarks" pointing out disagreements with the examiner's contentions. Applicant must also discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

8. The examiner respectfully reasserts that "actual value area" is still a part of said message data area, which is within the memory block.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
